

Smile Telecoms appoints Ahmad Farroukh, Irene Charnle

Pan-African telecommunications group Smile Telecoms has appointed Ahmad Farroukh - who currently serves as Smile's group executive director operations - as its group chief executive officer and Irene Charnley as its deputy chairman, effective 1 June 2019.

Farroukh is a seasoned and experienced telecoms executive with a distinguished record of commercial and operational success.

Charnley has led the company's innovation and pioneering of Africa's first 4G LTE network infrastructure, using low band spectrum in the 800MHz band.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>