SOS Children's Villages is a charitable organisation that provides homes for orphaned and vulnerable children and, in the spirit of Corporate Social Investment, icandi COMMUNICATIONS have undertaken to produce the Bi Annual SOS Children's Villages magazine - 'The Village News'.

"After icandi COMMUNICATIONS offered to do our newsletter for free, I was waiting for the catch?" says Alma Torlage from the SOS National Office. "But, there was none, and I just kept smiling this side! The need for the newsletter is enormous and I cannot imagine doing it well on our little budget."

SOS provides family orientated environments for orphaned and vulnerable children to live and grow in, with love, security and respect. Eight to ten children are cared for in a small family-type home and it is so important that needed equipment and supplies can be communicated to prospective donors.

The Village News is circulated among donors and serves as an internal and external newsletter.

SOS Children's Villages is politically and denominationally independent, and is an affiliated member of SOS-Kinderdorf International.

icandi COMMUNICATIONS is proud to be associated with an organisation that is making a concerted effort to improve the conditions of less fortunate South African children throughout the country, and looks forward to assisting SOS in 'getting the word out' about what they do.
