

Sappi's André Oberholzer achieves SCMP certification

Sappi Limited's group head for corporate affairs, André Oberholzer, has become the first communication professional in Africa to achieve the Strategic Communication Management Professional (SCMP) certification.

The certification is aimed at highly skilled business communicators who provide strategic communication advice and counselling to an organisation's leadership. It is offered by Global Communication Certification Council (GCCC), an initiative of the International Association of Business Communicators (IABC).
