

Colourworks appoints new staff

Colourworks has implemented a change programme at the senior-level, promoting Jason Cleghorn, the previous creative director to the role of managing director, overseeing Colourworks future strategy and day-to-day operations.

We have also appointed Lindsay Redcliffe as the new creative director who brings a host of experience from both overseas and South Africa. Additionally Talya Ginsberg joins us as a new senior account executive responsible for corporate accounts.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>