Check Point introduces Infinity Total Protection

Check Point Software Technologies has announced a new product, Infinity Total Protection, which enables enterprises to prevent Gen V cyber-attacks. The security consumption model uses Check Point Infinity Architecture components to provide high levels of security, while also reducing cost by consolidating security components.

Check Point Infinity combines real-time threat prevention, shared intelligence, and security across networks, cloud, and mobile.

For more, visit: https://www.bizcommunity.com