The service is connected to Bebuzzee, a social platform that includes video, photos, blogs and a sharing network, and is the brain child of Joe Onyero. “We seamlessly connect the millions of Bebuzzee.com users to our built-in Properbuz service allowing them to search for properties to rent or purchase near their homes or in other places in the world. We call it 'social property searching' and make it an enjoyable activity for our users that combines results with social outreach,” explains Onyero.
