

How to remember your favourite wine

Durbanville Hills' peel-off panel on the back of its Hills wine range label is aimed at diners in restaurants and hotels and contains contact information for those who would like to know more about the wine and the cellar. The "remember-me" sticker can be stuck in your diary, kept in your wallet, on your fridge door or handed to friends to remind them of the name or vintage for their next trip to the shops.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>