

Astera appoints Carl-Johan Sköld as its new group CEO

Astera, a developer of innovative light solutions for film and events, has announced Carl-Johan Sköld as its new group CEO.

Sköld, who has been a consultant for the German-based firm, is well-suited to provide guidance during Astera's strategic development phase. He brings extensive expertise in business consultancy, M&A advisory services and strategic development, with a specific focus on East Asian markets.

For more, visit: <https://www.bizcommunity.com>